Called to Rise

Join us this fall as we gather in the sacred rhythm of resurrection living—rising in response to God's call and raising up others with love, courage, and intention. As women who are rooted in Christ's unshakable love, we are called to recognize our own worth and to reflect that worth back into the lives of young people around us. This is a season for standing strong and for lifting up! Whether you're a mentor, a mother, a youth leader, or a faithful presence in your congregation, this message is for you. Together, we'll explore how women of all ages and backgrounds can rise with purpose and participate in the holy work of growing the next generation.

Keynote speakers, Pastor Lynne Ogren, Bethel Lutheran Church, and Marcy Sprecher, executive director of Rocksolid Community Teen Center, combine more than four decades of working with youth to bring a message of inspiration and hope.
